He studied law under James T. Dunlap, at Paris, and then graduated in the law school at Lebanon. Locating at Paris, he married the daughter of Mr John Dunlap, of that place, and began the practice of his profession. He soon gained a high standing at the bar by the practice of those sterling virtues, industry and attention to business; and, though he possessed a strong will and great perseversues and determination, yet his mild manners and his being, under all circumstances, a gentleman in the highest sense of the term, he won triends of all the bar, and usually won this.

In the midst of a successful and popular practice, he was called out for the Legislature in 1859, and was elected to the House from the counties of Henry, Carroll, Gibson and Madison, and he served his constituents with great satisfaction to them, and was the author of the celebrated "Porter Resolutions," which were immediately adopted by Kentucky and other Southern States. These were passed by Tennessee when only three States

When Tennessee decided to east her Let with the other Southern States Mr. Porter at once volunteered, and was assigned soon after as Assistant Adju-Lint General to Gen. Frank Chentlem's command as chief of stall, and he was with Gen. Cheatham in the hattles of Belmont and Shiloh, At Co. hall he was prostrated by the diseases which proved fatal to so many Confederates, and left the army for a beief period on sick leave. He soon re-timed his duties, and was ever at his post with Gen. Cheatham's command ad his duties and sharing in all the dangers which his hard-fighting communcer encountered. When the army had surrendered at Bentonville, North Carolina, and had gone to Salisbury to draw their last rations, a South 1 arolina Major at the head of a mob of six or seven hundred soldiers marched up to sack the commissary s or house. Gen. Cheatham perceived the movement, and calling Col. Cal. Porter had the unlimited confidence of his superior and fellow officers and discharged the arduous duties of Assistant Adjutant General for four years with the greatest ability and promptness, and received the highest commendations from General Chentbam as a courteous and chivalrous gentleman, an able and trusty officer, as a gallant soldier in the field, and a sagacious counsellor in camp.

After reading the riotous news in another part of this paper, our readers will not think that the "White plank" was put in our platform at Nashville prematurely. If there was ever a time for white people to look out for themselves, it is certainly now. Sumner's legacy to the negroes is certainly the worst inheritance that could have been left them. White men, rally to your flag! A convention of the farmers and land owners of Haywood county is called to meet in Brownsville on the 27th inst., "to promote the interest of the landowners of this county, to make the land more fertile and proinefficient portion of present laborers, to make labor honorable, to restore our once fertile lands, our prosperous people and county to former prosperity, and to encourage immigration." Last week a desperate shooting affray occurred on the Tennessee side of the Mississippi river, near Point Pleasant, in which Captain Albert Hall and a young man named Teenham were killed, George Darnell mortally, and Captain Cole and two brothers named Cox seriously woundbetween Captain Hall and Captain Cole, who own competing ferrybonts at Point Pleasant, which culminated night last week. Three children were siceping up stairs, two of whom were Darling, I am lonely now. Song and cho. Ninth ballot—Morgan 114, Porter rings and combinations formed for the Thomas 209. Barns 79. Marks oppression of the records: that we are sheet of flame that it was impossible to penetrate and the child perished.
